About Yellow Breeches Racing

YBR is a team of competitive Carlisle-area athletes specializing in endurance sports including cycling, triathlon, biathlon, running, swimming, and adventure racing.

In addition to its racing activities, YBR is a network of training partners, a clearinghouse for endurance sport-related information, and a race support team.

YBR will provide an organized, fun avenue to enter (or expand participation in) the world of endurance racing. YBR will be very active in local events and will be very visible in the local fitness community. YBR will encourage youth participation in endurance racing under the guidance and leadership of experienced adult YBR members.

YBR Goals

YBR exists to help team racers set and achieve their personal fitness goals, to encourage participation in endurance sports, and to have fun training and racing.

Invitation to Join YBR

We invite you to participate in YBR's inaugural season. The racers of YBR embody the ideals of fitness, community involvement, and sportsmanship. Our team jerseys will be visible throughout the season at numerous race venues.

Your involvement with YBR will certainly show your commitment to improving your racing performance and to the ideals embodied by YBR.

You will receive a YBR team roster before the start of the season so you can meet our racers.

Membership Cost

YBR is open to all interested athletes aged 14 and up. The cost is $5 for Carlisle YMCA members and $10 for non-members.

Racers are expected to purchase team uniforms and to compete in at least 3 races during the 2000 season.

Note to NORBA/USCF racers: Yellow Breeches Racing is a USA Cycling member club (ID #9360.)
